SAN FRANCISCO

In a city flush with green boutiques, Ladita—the newest spot in sleepy Bernal Heights—offers a truly above-and-beyond selection of indie organic-fashion lines (like Covet and Stewart + Brown), with limited editions from the earth-conscious offshoots of popular labels like James Jeans. Owner Christine Kay is particularly gifted at discovering cool, environmentally minded accessories, like posh-bohemian wood-heeled sandals from Mohop and oversize totes covered in vintage flower prints by Love Surplus. 827 CORTLAND AVE., 415-648-4397
